THE EXPERIENCE

WHO ARE "SELDOM SEEN"?

The men who make up this remarkable acting company are "Seldom Seen" in two ways

- They are currently or recently without permanent housing, and unseen by much of society
- As a new theatre troupe, they haven't been seen much yet in the Bay Area.

But that's changing!

Every week since June 2005, men have been meeting every week at the Champion Guidance on San Pablo Avenue in Oakland to study playwrights like William Shakespeare and August Wilson.

In December of that year, they performed an original work entitled Sleeping: It's a Wake-Up Call before a large and enthusiastic audience at the James Moore Theatre.

"My first experience with the acting company, I thought this is impossible. Speaking without a script -- impossible."- Isaac Okoronkwo, actor

"But there they were - nine men resurrecting themselves from the pits of addiction, joblessness, homelessness, and jail time, basking in the thrill of a standing ovation from the audience."
- The Catholic Voice

"This play has taught me to better myself, that all things are possible."
- Dennis Forester, actor
